Female Clerks to be Discharged—Reverdy Johnson to be Recalled—Appointments—Gen. Rosseau's Report—Letters from Rear Admirals Davis and Ramsay—English and French Officers' Opinion of Lopez.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, November 25, 1868.

The Register of the Treasury has advised the discharge of seventy more female clerks from his bureau. Twenty-three of those selected have resigned.

Mr. Seward read the dispatches of Minister Johnson in the Cabinet yesterday, and the proposed plan for the settlement of the Alabama claims was disapproved. The recall of Reverdy Johnson is not improbable.

The Jeff. Davis capture money has all been paid except General Pritchard's three thousand dollars. It is said he cannot be found.

General Grant denies that he has ever written a letter to General Slocum on political matters. He is in favor of one term for the President.

The Chief Justice has confirmed most of Judge Underwood's decisions against ex-rebels in Virginia, relative to property rights, the freedmen and banks.

General Grant will shortly visit the New England States, and it is said, will place his son at Harvard College.

The Czar has sent two military engineers to this country to inspect the Pacific Railroad. He intends building a similar road from St. Petersburg to Chinese Tartary.

The following Internal Revenue appointments were made to-day: Storekeeper, David Duncan, for the First District of Missouri; Guagers, Joel Coae and Chas. N. Ord, Eighteenth District of Ohio.

The President has appointed Colonel Powell, of Tennessee, Consul at Port Stanley, Folkland Islands, to fill the vacancy.

Colonel R. B. Keeler, of General Rousseau's staff, arrived last evening with the General's report of operations in his command. Also his report upon the recent disturbances in Louisiana. These he delivered to-day to General Grant. The Colonel also had an interview with the President, Secretary of War, and some of the prominent members of Congress, who have arrived here, giving details, derived from personal observation in New Orleans, all of which could not well be included in the General's report. Colonel Keeler represents that the hostility of the white people of Louisiana generally to the present State Government is most bitter and intense; that with the force under Gen. Rousseau's command during the recent troubles, it was utterly impossible to preserve peace at all points. Every disposition of his troops was made, and every possible measure was taken to protect the people in their rights, without regard to party. The Republicans did not generally vote because they were advised not to attempt to do so by their leaders, who believed they could not vote with safety to their persons. In this opinion Gen. Rousseau concurred, but with the means at his command, he was powerless to establish a different order of things. Gen. Rousseau was in constant conversation with Governor Warmouth, and the other State authorities, during the disturbances, and his course met their warm approval, as it does of all classes in New Orleans. Colonel Keeler states that up to the date of General Steedman's assuming charge of the police, that force was utterly worthless. It was composed of two hundred and forty-three negroes and one hundred and thirty whites. No riots have occurred, and no city has been more orderly and quiet than New Orleans since that change.

General Rosseau courts the most searching investigation of his management of Louisiana affairs during the recent troubles.

Colonel Keeler says there is no good foundation for the reports of organizations in New Orleans to help the Cuban insurgents.

Several unofficial letters have been received in this city relative to the Paraguayan difficulty.

It has been stated that the English and French Governments had each sent a man-of-war to Paraguay. These vessels have returned, as will be seen by the following from a private letter from Rear Admiral Davis. The information received from their officers differs from the published accounts. Rear Admiral Davis' letter is dated, Rio De Janeiro, October 26th. He says: Rear Admiral Fesquet, commanding the French Naval division in this station, with whom I am on terms of intimate intercourse, came yesterday to furnish me some information recently received from the Captain of the gunboat Decidie. In regard to his recent visit to Lopez, his Lieutenant Commander, Kirkland, in his unofficial letter contradicts the extravagant stories which have been busily circulated charging Lopez with various crimes against humanity, and particularly with the assassination of certain foreign Consuls, as for example the French Consul and the Portugese Consul. The French Consul left Paraguay in the Decidie. He has been under no apprehension for his life or safety. The expression of Admiral Fisquiet yesterday was "Il na jamais ete inquiete."

Rear Admiral George Ramsey, commanding Her British Majesty's naval forces on this station, with whom my relations have been very cordial, has just came on board to give me similar information from Lt. Bush, commanding Her British Majesty's gun boat Lennet, now lying at Monteviedo, but recently returned from Paraguay. His intercourse with Lopez was entirely satisfactory in all respects. In short, in several of the most important particulars touching the character, conduct and situation of President Lopez, the reports of a month ago after undergoing modifications from time to time, are now wholly contradicted. My conclusion is, I cannot expect to obtain perfectly reliably grounds of action until I approach more nearly to the scene of war. There has been at one time an effort made to condemn Lopez by exclamatory denunciations, which are now dying away.

Admiral Davis has not, as has been stated, made application to the Secretary of the Navy for additional force with which to proceed to Paraguay. He has sufficient number to answer his purpose.

Denounced as Cowardly.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, November 25.—A Richmond dispatch says that the first announcement of Mr. Pollard being shot, was received with much satisfaction, but upon its being known that he was killed without warning, the deed was denounced as cowardly. Pollard was heavily armed as usually, but unconscious of danger.

NEW YORK, November 25, 1868.

FURTHER LEGAL PROCEEDINGS IN THE ERIE RAILROAD CASE.

In the Supreme Court, to-day, before Judge Sutherland, the case of Belmont vs. the Erie Railway and Jay Gould having been called, a motion was made by the counsel for the defense for a postponement of the settlement of the order for a receiver. This was refused. Almost every clause in the order, as submitted, was objected to, and several phrases were struck out. A preliminary point as to the effort of Judge Barnard's stay of proceedings on the settlement, was settled by Judge Sutherland holding that it could not interfere between the making of an order and its settlement. The order, as finally settled, declares Judge Davies as receiver of the Erie Company, defines his duties, and orders all persons holding books, funds, property, papers, &c., belonging to said corporation, to deliver the same to him, and recognize his authority. It also provides for the payment, by the receiver of the expenses necessary to carry on the road, and requires him to make out a list of all the stock of the Co., with the amount of funds in his hands, and to keep an accurate account of his transactions with the road. The Directors and other officers were directed to refrain from any interference with him. David Hawley is appointed Referee. This order having been settled, counsel for plaintiffs moved another order vacating the stay of proceedings granted by Judge Barnard and ordering that all proceedings of said Receiver under the order of the 23d inst. appointing him such Receiver, and under the subsequent order made this day, more particularly defining the duties of such Receiver, so far as such orders, or either of them, relate to the Receiver taking possession of the funds, railroads and rolling stock, supplies and furniture, and the earnings from freight and passage money and tolls of the company accrued and received since the first day of November, 1868, and to the running of the said road and operating the said ferry, or exercising the franchises of said company in respect to the running of its road, and other roads and ferries, be suspended until the decision of the general term upon the appeal taken from said order appointing said Receiver, November 13th, 1868, upon any appeal which may be taken within ten days hereafter from the order entered this day, defining the duties of said Receiver. This stay shall not prevent the Receiver from calling on the directors and officials of said Company, by legal proceedings or otherwise, for all accounts of earnings and receipts of said Company, for the payment of all surplus of said earnings over the amounts thereof necessary to pay the legitimate expenses of running said road, and operating said ferries, and that none of the proceedings of the said receiver, under or upon said orders be stayed, except as hereinbefore specified. This order was adopted by Judge Sutherland and the proceedings terminated.

CARD FROM JUDGE FULLERTON.

The following card is published to-day: "To the Public—The parties implicated in what are known as whisky frauds, under the leadership of S. G. Courtney, United States District Attorney, have succeeded, after an effort of more than two weeks duration, in procuring an indictment against me for an alleged conspiracy to defraud the Revenue officer. I do not know upon what evidence this has been obtained: but I do know, whatever it is, it is wholly false. I trust my friends will be patient, as I am. In the end I shall show to the satisfaction of every right-minded man that I have neither said nor done anything which should, in the slightest degree, impair that confidence, or lessen that measure of respect which it has heretofore been my fortune to enjoy. This body of men who have instigated these proceedings, have done so in self-defense. I am employed by the President of the United States, and I am acting under his authority in exposing the monstrous frauds which have been committed on the Revenue. The only escape of parties envolved is to crush me. This they have attempted by a vile conspiracy. The truth will prevail in the end, however, despite all efforts to prevent it, and the public will see who is deserving of condemnation.

[Signed.] WM. FULLERTON.

CAUSE OF THE FAILURE.

It is understood that the cable wires were not interrupted on Sunday and Monday, and that the failure to forward newspaper and commercial dispatches on those days was in consequence of the occupation of the cable by official dispatches between this country and Great Britain.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Sir John Young, the newly appointed Governor of Canada, and Lieutenant Colonel McNeil, Mr. F. Tunnel, Lord Alex. Russel and Lieut. Col. Bernard, of England, arrived here yesterday.

The office of the Erie Railroad Company in West street, was closed yesterday, and a clerk told all visitors that business was suspended. The transfer office in Pine street, however, was open as usual.

Judge Fullerton denies complicity in the blackmailing of Collector Smith.

Arguments in the Rosenberg case were concluded to-day in the United States Circuit Court and the decision will be given Friday.

The Commercial says Thurlow Weed's health is so poor he will be unable to visit Washington this winter, or even engage in politics or business in New York.

It is stated that since Fisk, Gould & Co. become managers of the Erie Railway it has cost the Company one million dollars for executive, legislative and legal service.

The charitable institutions have made arrangements for giving a large number of people Thanksgiving dinners. The Five Points Mission will feed two thousand and the St. Barnabas Home three thousand.

Cheap Transportation.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PORTLAND, Me., November 24.—The speech of Edward Crane, of Boston, upon the subject of cheap transportation, was made here to-night at City Hall. Many of his facts and suggestions were novel, and elicited marked expressions of approval from the large audience assembled, composed mainly of the principal merchants and capitalists of Maine. Resolutions were adopted exceedingly complimentary to the speaker, one of which urged the necessity of the immediate construction of the Niagara Ship Canal by the Government.

The Cleveland Accident.

The "Globe" on the Chinese Embassy—Gladstone's Cabinet—The Alabama Commission—Financial and Commercial.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, November 23.—The Globe has an editorial on the reception of the Chinese Embassy by the Queen. It attaches great importance to the mission of Mr. Burlingame, and after describing its objects, says: "America is favorable to a protective system, while England desires uninterrupted intercourse. The interests of Europe and China are not conflicting. The interests of Great Britain and the welfare of the Chinese are identical. If there is the smallest chance of advantage accruing from the proposed treaty, let us ratify it without the least possible delay.

Speculation is rife in regard to the composition of Mr. Gladstone's Cabinet. It is considered very nearly certain that the Earl of Kimberly will be Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

The propriety of having the Alabama Commission hold sessions successively in London and Washington is now under consideration.

RICHMOND.

Iron Clad Oath Not to be Administered to Grand Jurors—Inquest in the Pollard Shooting Case.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, Nov. 25.—Chief Justice Chase this morning decided that the iron clad oath should not be administered to grand jurymen, as it rather hindered than furthered the ends of justice. A new jury has been summoned under this decision and will only take the oath to support the Constitution of the United States.

The jury of inquest on the death of Mr. Pollard rendered a verdict this morning that he came to his death at the hands of some person unknown. Grant is still in custody and will be examined on Friday.

Chief Justice Chase, in his order to-day dispensing with the test oath to grand jurors, explained that it was an additional oath prescribed by Congress, which is to be taken, unless the court in its discretion direct otherwise. He added "The scruples at taking it are expressed by some grand jurors, known to be among those best qualified for the responsible duties of their position, have induced us to inquire whether the public interests now demand that the taking of it be required, and we are satisfied that while matters affirmed in it are proper cause of challenge in particular cases, the ends of justice will be hindered and defeated, rather than promoted and seconded by directing it to be administered, unless some special occasion shall demand it. No such special occasion now exists, and inasmuch as the required number of Grand Jurors have not yet been sworn, we will order that those who have been sworn be discharged, and the Marshal will summon another Grand Jury in the usual manner."

In his charge to the Grand Jury he spoke as follows of the Revenue frauds: "We admonish you, gentlemen, to exercise your utmost vigilance on the subject of frauds on the Revenue, an evil which the land cries out upon; and frauds upon the Revenue are frauds upon the whole body of taxpayers, and no one who eats, drinks, wears or is sheltered under any roof, however humble, now escapes taxation. Whatever the dishonest avoid paying, their worthier fellow-citizens must make up. Investigate thoroughly, therefore, and spare nobody, least of all, those in the highest and most responsible positions; those who are worthy will welcome the inquiry which must turn to their praise."

The sum of two million five hundred thousand dollars tax was paid on tobacco manufactured and shipped from Richmond for the nine months ending the 1st instant.

Paper to be Resuscitated—The Fenian Convention—Atlantic Garden Theatre Burned

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, November 25.—W. T. Sherne has purchased the penny Globe, and will resuscitate it with improvements.

Hon. J. W. Fitzgerald presides over the Fenian Congress, the proceedings of which are mostly secret.

The following resolution was passed by the Fenian Congress in joint session to-day: Resolved, As the sense of Congress that we hereby tender a general and cordial invitation to all the Independent Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood and Savage circles of the Fenian Brotherhood to send delegates to this Convention. We furthermore invite all native Irishmen to participate in our deliberations.

The large building in Callowhill street, below Fifth, known as the Atlantic Gardens, and used for the lowest class of theatrical performances, was burned this evening. It caught fire just previous to the commencement of the performance. The audience escaped unhurt. The place formerly had a notoriously bad reputation under the name of Ritter's Melodeon. Loss not yet ascertained. The surrounding buildings were damaged by fire and water.

Lady Robbed of $9,000.

Meeting of the Legislature—Governor's Message—Whisky Seized—Young Men's Christian Association Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—The Democrat has a special from Little Rock, Ark., which says the Legislature has at last got a quorum and the Governor's message has been read. It gives an account of Ku-Klux assassinations, murders and other outrages during the past three months. Martial law has been declared in several counties, and State troops sent there to protect loyal men and punish the Ku-Klux, and the Governor intends, he says, to use the militray force until peace, security and obedience to the laws prevails throughout the State. He recommends the funding of the State debt.

The Legislature has passed a law approving the Governor's declaration of martial law in the eleven counties referred to in his message.

One hundred and thirty-eight barrels of whisky, in four different lots, were seized here to-day.

ST. LOUIS, November 25.—The Young Men's Christian Association Convention met at nine o'clock this morning. The first regular question was what is the work of Young Men's Christian Conventions, which was introduced by J. B. Merwin, and subsequently discussed briefly by the Convention.

The next question was the right of election between the churches and Young Men's Christian Associations, which was spoken of by Alfred Connell, of St. Louis.

Mr. Walters, of Indiana, said he believed the sole object of these Associations should be to work for Christ. Whenever young men undertook anything else, anything that was unchristian, they were mistaken. The sole object of the Association was to make themselves like Christ, not Christ like them, or according to any denomination.

Rev. A. B. Blair, of Cleveland, said it had been represented to him that pastors of churches regarded the Christian Association as rendering the young men useful for the purpose. His observations led him to believe that such a conclusion was incorrect.

The Rev. Mr. Morton offered the following resolution as embodying the views of the Convention on the foregoing subject, which was adopted:

Resolved, That no other agency can supercede the Christian Church, or do its work, the work God has laid on it, and for which He has established it, to preserve and disseminate truths, to leaven and evangelize and save the world.

To aid in this work as an auxillary to the church is the legitimate work of the Young Men's Christian Association. It is, when rightly conducted, the churches best friend, the pastors right arm, and a strong, earnest, efficient laborer in the Master's vineyard. Every christian organization should be untiring in its zeal, but must rely upon the church, which was the birth place and the home of the soul; any aspirations that sought to supercede the church was fighting against Christian brotherhood. They could not supply the place of the church, but they could work for the church, and in proportion as they worked faithfully, in that proportion would they be held up by the church, animated with zeal for the glory of God on High, purposes they ought not to seek to supercede the church, with all her hallowed associations. Any effort in that direction originated in a mistaken zeal, and was a war on brethren. He stood second to no man in his esteem for the work of this Association. He believed it to be the noblest auxillary of the Church. It was a school where children are trained to intelligent church membership. He would bid them God speed to go on in their good work, of whatever name or denomination, and faithfulness and loyalty to the Church.

The next question—the right work of the Christian Association—was introduced by J. B. Sherwen, of St. Louis, who said he thanked God they had learned the benefit of organization, and were taking hold of this matter as they did material things. If they wished to build a railroad, individual incorporation and organization were required one man could not accomplish it; nor any number of men without united effort. This much, so far as organization and corporation were concerned, had been learned by christians. Now, how should the various organizations be employed when they engage in the work? Very differently, he believed, from what they were at present. He believed this Association ought to reorganize itself. He believed that it would not fullfil its mission or carry out its work without the earnest co-operation of the women of the church; and instead of calling the association the Young Men's Christian Association, he would have them re-organized and their names changed to the Young People's Christian Association, so that all persons who have young blood in their veins can work for Christ, and the power of evil will give way before their united efforts. The speaker wished not to deprecate in the slightest degree what has been and what is now being done; but simply add more power to the organization. He also thought other organizations, the Unitarians, Universalists, and Roman Catholics, should be invited to co-operation with them. The gentlemen submitted the following questions, which he thought should be proposed to every new member of the Association with a view to a proper division of labor: Will you be a teacher or a scholar in a Sunday School or a Mission Sunday School, or attend young people's prayer meeting, or the district visitation, or visit the sick, or engage in personal efforts in leading the impenitent to Christ, or unite in readings or recitations, and discourage the frequent and continued bothering, as he called it, of God with prayers and petitions for help before the petitioners have wasted all their powers in His service.

HAVANA.

Fight at Menzanilla—Prominent Insurgents Surrendering—Matters Favorable to the Government—Public and Private Correspondence Captured.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, November 25.—Count Valmusela recently made a visit to Manzanilla. On his departure the insurrectionists attacked that town, but were repulsed by the troops, assisted by the guns of a man-of-war in tho harbor.

Several prominent insurrectionists have presented themselves to Captain General Lersundi, and were pardoned.

All accounts received from the insurrectionary district continue favorable to the Government.

The crews of several men-of-war, making a total of one hundred and sixty men, had been united with the troops. This combined force left the town of Santa Cruz and surprised a party of four hundred revolutionists, who fired several rounds upon the troops and fled precipitately. The sailors then surrounded the buildings which had been occupied by the insurrectionists and captured eighty horses, a quantity of ammunition and correspondence of a public and private character, including some taken from the Government messengers several weeks ago.

FLORIDA.

Reed-Gleason Difficulty—Further Time Granted Lieut. Gov. Gleason—The Court Sustain Gov. Reed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TALLAHASSEE, November 25.—In the Supreme Court this morning Lieut. Gov. Gleason was granted further time, until four P. M., to show cause why a writ of quo warranto should not be issued, immediately after which the Court adiourned till to-morrow, out of respect to General Waddy Thompson.

The advisory opinions were delivered this morning on the questions submitted, by Governor Reed some days since. The opinions are unanimous, lengthy and well fortified by precedents and authorities, and sustain Governor Reed's position. They decide that no legislature assembled under Governor Reed's proclamation for a special session, and if they had been a legal assembly, that the form of the impeachment was irregular and not in accordance with law or precident, and declares that the mere passage of resolutions of impeachment do not impeach. A colored Senator who was present states that when the articles of impeachment were presented to the Senate, that not a quorum of the members in attendance at the session were in the Senate Chamber. Little doubt exists but a writ of quo warranto will be issued; but arguments for and against under nill nisi will begin to-morrow and may continue several days.

ALABAMA.

Doings of the Alabama Legislature.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

MONTGOMERY, November 25.—The Legislature is discussing a bill to stay the collection of debts. Two Judges have already decided the stay law now in force unconstitutional.

A bill fixing the time of the election for members of the Forty-first Congress is also under consideration. Some favor the election in February, and others not until September.

The bill for suppressing the alleged Ku-Klux-Klan disorders is made the special order for Saturday.

Bouth Houses have adjourned over until Friday.

The Trial Trip of the First Locomotive.

Major Horatio Allen, the engineer of the New York and Erie Railroad, gives the following account of the first trip made by a locomotive on this continent:

When was it? Who was it? And who awakened its energies and directed its movements? It was in the year 1828, on the banks of the Lackawaxen, at the commencement of the railroads connecting the canal of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, with their coalmines—and he who addresses you was the only person on that locomotive. The circumstances which led to my being alone on the road were these: The road had been built in the summer; the structure was of hemlock timber, and rails of large dimensions, notched on cads placed far apart. The timber had cracked and warped from exposure to the sun. After about three hundred feet of straight line, the road crossed tne Lackawaxen creek on trestle work, thirty feet high, with a curve of three hundred and fifty-five to four hundred feet radius The impression was very general that the iron monster would break down the road, or it would leave the track at the curve and plunge into the creek.

My reply to such apprehensions was that it was too late to consider the probability of such occurrences; there was no other course than to have a trial made of the strange animal which had been brought here at a great expense, but that it was not necessary that more than one should be involved in its fate; that I would take the first ride alone, and the time would come when I should look back to the incident with great interest.

As I placed my hand on the throttle-valve handle, I was undecided whether to move slowly or with a fair degree of speed; but believing that the road would prove safe, and prefeering, if we did go down, to go handsomely, and without any evidence o timidity. I started with considerable velocity, passed the curve of the creek safely, and was soon out of the hearing of the vast assemblage. At the end of two or three miles I reversed the valve and returned without accident, having thus made the first railroad trip, by locomotive, on the Western hemisphere.

A Safety Rail.

Dr. A. W. Hall's suggestion, made in a paper read a few evenings since before the Society of Practical Engineers, for avoiding accidents on railroads resulting from the breaking or displacement of rails, is a good one and at the same time quite practicable. Dr. Hall suggests that a second, or safety rail, be laid inside the working rail, and that the wheels of the cars be made with a double tread. The safety rail being about a quarter of an inch lower than the working rail, would not, under ordinary circumstances, be touched by the car wheels. Should, however, the outer rail be displaced, the inner tread of the wheel would fall on the safety rail and the cars would be carried along as before, without the passengers being conscious that anything unusual had occurred. As old rails might be thus utilized, the cost of laying a track of safety rails would not, it is estimated, exceed $3,500 per mile. What railway is there in this country that has not suffered enough loss by broken rails to lay a track of safety rails throughout its entire extent ten times over? A suggestion was made years ago, in an English paper, that a middle rail should be laid on all tracks, and that each car should be provided with wheels with deep flanges, placed beneath the body of the car and running on the central track. Thus, in the event of either rail giving way, the central rail would come into play. Dr. Hall's suggestion, however, is better than the English one.—New York Times.

United States Bonds in Europe.

The Echo de la Bourse, published in Paris, has an interesting article on the operations in United States Bonds in France and Germany. This journal states that upwards of six hundred millions of dollars worth of American securities held in Europe, four-fifths, at least, are held in Germany. The daily sales of United States Bonds at Frankport, Hamburg, Bremen and Berlin will, it is asserted, compare favorably with the transactions in Wall street, and at Rotterdam and Vienna the sales are larger than in London. In Paris, the purchases are small, and are principally effected by Americans residing in or passing through that city. The Echo states, however, that while the European securities have fluctuated greatly in value, the United States Bonds continue to advance steadily, and at present are quoted on the Bourse at a high figure. This appreciation of the high value of American securities is attributed to the Monthly Circular issued by the Treasury Department, showing the financial condition of the country, and which is sent to all the bankers of Europe.

A Slave-Dealer's Execution.

A writer in the Atlantic referring to the execution of Gordon, the slave-trader, says: "Whatever Gordon's life may have been worth to him or to his friends, I think this country put it to a very good use when she hanged him. A storm of protests was made against his death. Twenty-five thousand people petitioned Abraham Lincoln to spare that man's life, and Abraham Lincoln refused. Gordon was hanged. All through the little ports and big ports of the United States it was known that a slave-trader had been hanged. And when that was known, the American slave trade ended. All up and down little African rivers that you never heard the name of, it was known that an American slave-trader had been hanged; and cowardly pirates trembled, and brave seamen cheered when they heard it. Mothers of children thanked such gods as they knew how to thank; and slaves shut up in barracoons, waiting for their voyage, got signal that something had happened which was to give them freedom. That something was that Gordon was hanged. So far that little candle threw its beams."

IN the United States District Court at Indianapolis, on Saturday, Judge M'Donald decided on two points of the Bankrupt act. Firstly—The failure for fourteen days to pay commercial paper is not an act of bankruptcy, unless it is shown that the failure was with fraudulent intent. Secondly—When a banker, knowing his estate to be insolvent, permits himself to be sued, and knowing that a judgment on such suit will give that creditor an advantage over others, he commits an act of bankruptcy, and is bound to seek the relief of the Bankrupt act; neglecting this, he may be adjudged bankrupt on petition of creditors.

—John A. Fisher, former cashier of the Bank of Tennessee, died in Nashville yesterday.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

[From the New York Evening Post.]

LAY OFF YOUR UNIFORMS.

[General Grant, being loudly called for (at Belvidere), said: "Gentlemen—I see some of you in uniforms. You laid them off three years ago; lay them off now, and we'll have peace. Good night."—Daily Papers.]

Boys in blue, the great chieftain whose name you revere,
Has given you wise counsel—a word in your ear:
Lay off your uniforms, warfare is o'er;
Lay up your rifles, we need them no more;
Return to your households, your hearths and your fields,
And win from kind Nature the wealth that she yields:
Let symbols of discord and enmity cease,
"Lay off your uniforms, and we'll have peace."

As soldiers you fought your dear country to save;
You gave her the blood of the loyal and brave.
Men blazon in gold the bright deeds you have done;
A new era now dawns, a new day has begun;
Change the sword for the ploughshare, the gun for the spade,
Seek triumphs in commerce, in arts and in trade;
As citizens, now, let your Virtues be known,
Lay off your uniforms; Peace reigns alone!

—Congars, and such disagreeable creatures, are getting very dangerous in Oregon. The fires in the woods have driven them into the settlements where they play hob generally. One little girl was eaten up by one in Lynn county recently.

—That respectable part of Philadelphia which resides in the neighborhood of Tenth and Pine, is intensely excited over the recent horrible murder of Mrs. Hill, and the neighborhood is intensely respectable, Bishop Stevens, Dr. Howe, Dr. Morton, and many other clergymen residing within a square of the place.

—Why the king of the barn yard was christened turkey instead of Persia or Arabia we are not prepared to state, but we do know that at the numerous family dinner parties to-day, there will be such a division of turkey as Poland in her agony never dreamed of, and the noble bird would be eaten with as much relish if it were called India or Algiers, and would probably acquire an additional zest if it were England or Paraguay.

—Dr. Holland has been to Switzerland, where immense quantities of wine are drank, and he now thinks that plenty of cheap wine is not going to cure drunkenness in this country. If Dr. Holland were as wise a man as he always tries to appear to be, we should be surprised at his assertions; as it is, we are not at all astonished. In all ages of the past world, men who intended to get drunk, could do it, and so it will be in the future, but when a man can sit down and drink a bottle of wine comfortably without it affecting him in the pocket or any in head, a great mass of people is at once saved from much danger of drunkenness, and we know from personal experience, that two or three of the bottles of light Swiss wines can be drank with as much little apparent effect as so much water, and we have seen more drunkenness in three days in America, with her temperance societies, than we have in as many weeks in Switzerland with her light wines.

Private Habits of Horace Greeley.

BY MARK TWAIN OF THE TRIBUNE'S STAFF.

(From Wilkes' Spirit of the Times.)

Mr. Greeley gets up at three o'clock in the morning; for it is one of his favorite maxims that only early rising can keep the health unimpaired and the brain vigorous. He then wakes up all the household and assembles them in the library, by candle light, and, after quoting the beautiful lines:

"Early to bed and early to rise
Makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise."

he appoints each individual's task for the day, sets him at it with encouraging words and goes back to bed again. I mention here, in no fault finding spirit, but with the deference justly due a man who is older and wiser and worthier than I, that he snores awfully. In a moment of irritation once, I was rash enough to say I never would sleep with him until he broke himself of this unfortunate habit. I have kept my word with bigoted and unwavering determination.

At half-past eleven o'clock Mr. Greeley rises again. He shaves himself. He considers that there is great virtue and economy in shaving himself. He does it with a dull razor, sometimes humming a part of a tune, (he knows part of a tune and takes an innocent delight in regarding it as the first half of Old Hundred; but parties familiar with that hymn have felt obliged to confess that they could not recognize it, and, therefore, the noise he makes is doubtless an unconscious original composition of Mr. Greeley's,) and sometimes, when the razor is especially dull, he accompanies himself with a formula like this: "Damn the damned razor, and the damned outcast who made it." He then goes out into his model garden, and applies his vast store of agricultural knowledge to the amelioration of his cabbages; after which he writes an able agricultural article for the instruction of American farmers, his soul cheered the while with the reflection that if cabbages were worth eleven dollars apiece his model farm would pay. He next goes to breakfast, which is a frugal, abstemious meal with him, and consists of nothing but just such things as the market affords, nothing more. He drinks nothing but water—nothing whatever but water, and coffee, and tea, and Scotch ale, and lager-beer, and lemonade with a fly in it—sometimes a house fly and sometimes a horse fly, according to the amount of inspiration required to warm him up to his daily duties. During breakfast he reads the Tribune all through, and enjoys the satisfaction of knowing that all the brilliant things in it, written by Young and Cooke, and Hazard and myself, are attributed to him by a confiding and infernal public. After breakfast he writes a short editorial, and puts a large dash at the beginning of it, thus (——), which is the same as if he put up H. G. after it, and takes a savage pleasure in reflecting that some of us understrappers cannot use that dash, except in profane conversation when chaffing over the outrage. He writes this editorial in his own handwriting. He does it because he is so vain of his penmanship. He always did take an inordinate pride in his penmanship. He hired out once, in his young days, as a writing master, but the enteprise failed. The pupils could not translate his remarks with any certainty. His first copy was "Virtue is its own reward," and they got it "Washing with soap is wholly absurd," and so the trustees discharged him for attempting to convey bad morals, through the medium of worse penmanship. But, as I was saying, he writes his morning editorial. Then he tries to read it over, and can't do it, and so sends it to the printers, and they try to read it, and can't do it, and so they set it up at random as you may say, putting in what words they can make out, and when they get stuck on a long word they put in "reconstruction" or "universal suffrage," and spur on and paddle ahead, and next morning, if the degraded public can tell what it is about, they say H. G. wrote it, and if they can't, they say it is one of those imbecile understrappers, and that is the end of it.

On Sunday Mr. Greeley sits in a prominent pew in Mr. Chapin's church, and lets on to be asleep, and the congregation regards it as an eccentricity of genius. When he is going to appear in public, Mr. Greeley spends two hours on his toilette. He is the most pains-taking and elaborate man about getting up his dress that lives in America. This is his chiefest and pleasantest foible. He puts on his old white overcoat and turns the collar. He puts on a soiled shirt, saved from the wash, and leaves one end of the collar unbottoned. He puts on his most dilapidated hat, turns it wrong side before, puts it on the back of his head and jams an extra dent in the side of it. He puts on his most atrocious boots and spends fifteen minutes in tucking the left leg of his pants into his boot top in what shall seem the most careless and unstudied way. But his cravat—it is into the arrangement of his cravat that he throws all his soul all the powers of his great mind. After fixing it for forty minutes before the glass it is perfect—it is askew every way—it overflows his coat collar on one side and sinks into oblivion on the other—it climbs and it delves around about his neck—the knot is conspicuously displayed under his left ear, and it stretches one of its long ends right out horizontally, and the other goes after his eye in the good old Toodle's fashion; and then, completely and marvellously appareled, Mr. Greeley strides forth, rolling like a sailor, a miracle of astounding costumery, the awe and wonder of the nations. But I haven't time to tell of the rest of his private habits. Suffice that he is an upright and an honest man—a useful man to his nation and his generation—a famous man who has justly earned his celebrity—and withal the worst dressed man in this or any other country, even though he does take so thundering much pains and put on so many frills about it.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede very slowly with five feet three inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. Weather yesterday was dark and smoky with every appearnce of rain.

The Kenton, arrived from Portsmouth, on Tuesday night, and departed again last evening. She had a good trip up, consisting mainly of metal.

The New State, from Wheeling, and Grey Eagle from Parkersburg, arrived and departed as usual.

The Silver Cloud No. 2, left for St. Louis last night with a fair trip. Hall and Dorsey pilots.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. Geo. W. Reed, is the next packet for St. Louis, leaving on Saturday. Passengers and will bear in mind that the Kate will leave positively as above announced.

The New York departed for Nashville last evening.

The R. C. Grey, Capt. Isaac Whittaker, is announced to leave for New Orleans on Saturday. She will fill out with Cincinnati and Louisville freight.

The Tom Farrow and Barges, Capt. Chas. Mathews, are announced to leave for St. Louis on Saturday without fail, and shippers should bear this in mind.

—The Bellevernon was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday.

—The Messenger and towboats, A. J. Baker and Mary Alice, passed Evansville on Monday.

—The Wabash at Vincennes has risen several feet. The bridge over that stream will soon be completed.

—Thompson & Mousor lost, $3,000 of coal by the sinking of a barge when the McCullough and Tiger collided.

—A prisoner destined for the Kentucky Penitentiary jumped overboard from the steamer Argonaut, Sunday morning, and escaped.

—The Silver Spray, Capt. Patterson, has gone into the New Orleans and Cincinnati Packet Co. and follows the Emma No. 3 to New Orleans.

—The towboat Tigress, which collapsed a flue some time since, is having her boilers repaired here, the iron put in at Cincinnati being found defective.

—The Cincinnati Chronicle says: It was reported this morning that the chances for raising the McCullough were rather slim. She is twistsd badly, and will probably break in two.

—The Wild Duck and barges, Dove and Swan, arrived at Cincinnati on Monday, and left there the same evening with a good trip. She had 2,000 bbls cement awaiting her below if she wants it.

—When the Robert Moore left Nashville for Cincinnati she had 368 bales of cotton, 72 barrels dried fruit, 270 bags peanuts, 40 green hides, 50 dry hides, and engagements below for as much freight as she can earry.

—Soundings were made at Hannibal, Mo., a few days ago, with a view of constructing a bridge across the Mississippi River. The result was entirely satisfactory, a rock bottom at no great depth being found under the bed of the stream.

—A Philadelphia dispatch says the wrecked steamship Star of the Union was insured for $80,000, a portion being in Cincinnati offices. The Magnolia and Enterprise Insurance Companies lose each, $5,000, the Boatman's, Union and Central the same amount; the City $2,500.

—The purchasers of the steamer R. S. Converse, at St. Louis, did not "come to time" with the money; so they forfeited the amount paid on the bargain. Captain Cade will take the Converse down to Memphis and use her in some trade to which she will be adapted by her lightness of draught.

—The Vicksburg Times, of Sunday, says: Lively times may now be expected in the lower trade. Captain Leathers, with the Belle Lee, and Captain John Smoker, with the Governor Allen, leave New Orleans in dead opposition. How long it will last, or what may be the result ef the conflict of this conflict of interests, no one can tell. Of one thing we are certain, that no money will be made by either party, and possibly a great deal lost by both. We were in hopes that the Cannon-Leathers misunderstanding would be amicably adjusted, but it seems such is not the case.

STEAMBOATS.

PITTSBURGH AND ST. LOUIS PACKET LINE.—Boats leave every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, of each week, and offener if throng of business requires. The line is to be under the direction and control of Captains John L. Rhodes, Wm. Dean, Emmitt McClure and James Rees. The object is to obtain regularity of time in departing, together with a uniform tariff of rates on freight, from Pittsburgh to St. Louis and all intermediate points. The following Captains and their boats have agreed to enter into and compose said line:

Steamer Leondias.....Capt. Edward Evans.
Steamer Silver Cloud No 2.....Capt. J. B. Conway.
Steamer Kate Putnam.....Capt. Geo. W. Reed.
Steamer Waunita.....Capt. Thos. Shuman.
Steamer Glendale.....Capt. John M. Hare.
Steamer Lorena.....Capt. Samuel Shuman.
Steamer Bellevernon.....Capt. John L. Darrah.
Steamer Maggie Hays.....Capt. B. C. Martin.
Steamer Armenia.....Capt. A. McCallum.
Steamer Messenger.....Capt. Jesse Dean.

It is understood that the day of departure shall be strictly obeyed on the part of said boats, and the hour not later than sundown. And that time of arrival at all points or landings between Pittsburgh and St. Louis shall be settled upon as will best serve the patrons of the line, to give dispatch to business and regularity, which we think will be of great advantage to our business men and the general travel on our rivers; besides save much expense to our boats, while loading under the line regulations in three days instead of six or eight, as under the old rule of loading three, or four boats at one time. If our object should be properly appreciated, we will endeavor to make the line work to the advantage of all concerned.

Through receipts will be given to all points where connections can be made with other good lines.

We most earnestly solicit the assistance of our business community. Very truly yours,

JOHN L. RHODES,
WILLIAM DEAN,
EMMITT McCLURE,
JAMES REES,

THERE will be no paper issued from this office to-morrow.

WEST VIRGINIA gives GRANT an official majority of nearly 9,000, or nearly double the figure which we reported recently.

THE Galena Gazette, published at the home of GENERAL GRANT and E. B. WASHBURNE, states, apparently upon authority, that the latter will not go into the new Cabinet.

BLAIR is said to have disappeared in the Western wilderness—the execrated scapegoat, bearing all the sins of the Democracy. At least, that is the theory of the matter; we have very serious doubts of its actual truth.

A RUMOR, apparently well authenticated, is current, that the cession of the Bay of Samana, (San Domingo) to the United States has been already settled, and partially completed. As an intermediate step, the title is now vested in a New York mercantile firm, whose re-conveyance to our Government will speedily follow the success of SALNAVE in quieting the threatened opposition in Hayti. The assent of our Congress seems to be taken for granted—which may prove a rash assumption.

THE country will be astonished to learn, that, in reply to a requisition from our Admiral in the South Atlantic for more ships and men, in view of the Paraguayan affair, Secretary Welles replies that he is unable to meet the demand, without impairing the efficiency of squadrons upon other service. Evidently, Mr. Welles does not join in the general opinion that this affair is at present by far the most important business for the department. His power of resistance to any amount of heavy cannonading might be profitably made use of in the construction of the next target at Fortress Monroe.

THANKSGIVING.

By appointment of the President of the United States, the recommendation of the Governors of all the Commonwealths, and in accordance with a time-honored custom, this day will be observed by the people of the land as one of prayer and thanksgiving. They will bow down before the throne of the Great Dispenser, and while acknowledging their insignificance and dependence, in His awful presence will breathe prayerful gratitude for the many temporal and spiritual gifts vouch-safed them during the past year, out of His boundless love and mercy. With grateful hearts they will turn towards Him to utter solemn, earnest thanksgiving for the many and manifold blessings showered upon them as individuals and as a people, and in deep humility will humble their souls at the foot of the Cross of Calvary, accusing themselves as too wicked and too unworthy to partake of the bounty of heaven so lavishly bestowed upon them, and pray with hopeful hearts to be made more worthy objects of the gushing love of a benign Creator. God will be sought by millions of His beings humbling themselves before Him. They will pour forth their gratitude for the golden harvests garnered away, for the fruits of the earth, the rich gifts yielded from its surface and out of its depths, for protection from pestilence and plague, for the peace and prosperity which gladden and make joyous their households, for the unity of the nation, the continuance of free government with its thrice blessed institutions of liberty, the march of civilization and the spreading of Christianity, and for numberless other blessings coming from the Hand Divine which plucked the thorns from life and made the pathway to Heaven less rugged and broader. The heart attuned to man's noblest attribute, gratitude, will find crowding upon it thousands of incentives to urge worship and rest on this—the nation's Sabbath. Few there must be so dead to conscience, so insensible to the more exalted promptings of their nature, and so indifferent to the goodness and love of a bounteous and benign God, as to refuse to enjoin on themselves its observance.

Let there be rest in the workshop, rest on the farm, rest in the counting room, rest everywhere this day. In proportion as we are grateful to God for past favors, so will He dispense them in the future. His measure of love towards man is overflowing. He will smile on our grateful nation to-day and the TeDeums chanted and prayers uttered in gratitude will be remitted back to fall in renewed mercies upon our people.

In our worship let us not forget that there is more responsibility resting on us than can be discharged by prayer. There are deeds to be performed. As we remember how loving, kind and merciful our Father in heaven has been to us, we must not forget that he has commanded that we care for his suffering poor. They are with us, appealing through misery and poverty, and suffering for our help. There is a becoming fitness in seeking out the poor and exercising charity towards our fellow beings on this day of thanksgiving, which, above all others on the calendar, should be marked with golden deeds in God's name. Let the helpless be attended, the sick nourished, the weak strengthened, the starving fed, the wretched and miserable made happy, and then God will truly accept our prayers and look down from heaven to bless and preserve our nation and to shower His gifts upon a grateful people.

WHAT OUGHT CONGRESS TO DO?

That the whole question of suffrage will come up for review in Congress during the session about to open, is rendered apparent by many indications. The incongruities inherent in, and the mischiefs resulting from, the existing posture of the subject are so many and flagrant that a readjustment is demanded by the most imperative considerations of public policy. Let us be specific:

1. The Republican party, by its elementary principles, stands pledged to universal suffrage. This phrase, whatever limitations may be admitted by reason of crime, pauperage and idiotcy, must be construed, in general, to mean that all persons upon whom the burdens of government are laid shall participate, through representation, in the direction thereof.

2. Prior to the rebellion suffrage rested upon a decidedly narrower basis in the Southern States than in the Northern ones. It has happened, through the progress of events, that suffrage has a broader foundation in most of the States that engaged in the revolt, than in many of those that did not.

3. The period is approaching for the regular enumeration of the inhabitants. Under the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution, an apportionment of representation will be made among the States, and it is altogether desirable to introduce perfect uniformity.

4. Questions growing out of differences of race are much more likely to receive a satisfactory solution by admitting all to an equality of political rights, than by maintaining arbitrary distinctions. These latter necessarily continue old passions, prejudices and aggravations, and prevent that unity which is one of the most essential conditions of national repose.

5. The foreign element in the population is large, both absolutely and relatively. Perhaps it now bears a greater proportion to the whole number of inhabitants than it will at any future period. There is a limit to the depletion of European nations by emigration, and the maximum seems to have been reached, while the ratio of individuals born in this country is steadily augmenting, and must continue so to do. Whatever evils, therefore, are incidental, according to the judgment of any class of thinkers, in the inflow of population from abroad—and whether we assent to that judgment or not—those evils, in the natural order of events, must diminish, taking the country through. In particular localities—as some of the denser cities—the mischiefs may continue to increase, by reason of temporary and limited causes; but, on the whole, even there a tendency to improvement cannot long be waited for in vain.

6. Universal Suffrage certainly implies that foreigners shall be admitted to citizenship, in as absolute a degree as persons who are native born. The genius of popular institutions requires as much. The argument in this direction is strengthened by the fact that foreigners constitute a very considerable part of the entire population. So far as they are, or shall be, unreasonably excluded from direct participation in political concerns, the government is made to assume an oligarchic aspect, which can be defended only by arguments and appeals drawn from national or theological bigotries.

6. Of course, this does not imply that conditions of citizenship shall not be prescribed, either for aliens or native-born. Government must necessarily declare who shall exercise political rights and on what terms. But the terms ought not to be invidious, but substantially equal. Concerning what is equal between aliens and natives, under this head, opinions will differ through a variety of causes. Into these differences of opinion it is not our purpose to enter, because we do not conceive that what we might offer would tend to promote agreement. All we desire to do here, is to say that we lean to the side of liberality, discarding all factitious distinctions.

7. That insufferable frauds are steadily committed in connection with Naturalization is a matter of general notoriety. These frauds have latterly become so gigantic as to involve, in public estimation, the purity and uprightness of many of the judicial tribunals. Practically, all aliens vote who are not restrained therefrom by a sense of personal honor. Unless this was so, the frauds would not be on so gigantic a scale.

8. Another mischief that requires remedy is colonization. Nobody imagines that an effectual stop can be put to this infamy; but it can be circumscribed and abridged. To this end it is essential that a thorough registry of voters be established, and that it be completed each year for a considerable period before the day of election. It is important, also, that the State elections be all held on the same day. The frequency of elections has long been felt to be an evil, and hence municipal elections have, in many instances, and with good effect, been changed so as to occur on the same day as State elections. It may require the concurrent action of Congress, of State Legislatures, and of the people, to accomplish these changes. Yet we are not clear but all that is desirable can be attained through an amendment of the Federal Constitution, which would necessarily be the supreme law, compelling modifications of the local Constitutions.

9. An amendment, then, to the National Constitution should confer the right of suffrage upon all adult male citizens, except in cases of crime, insanity, idiotcy and pauperage, upon a residence in the proper precinct, and registry therein, for six months or twelve months prior to any given election.

10. If Naturalization shall be continued in anything like its present form, the State Courts should be prohibited from meddling with it; stringent rules should be provided for controlling it, including public notice in newspapers of all applications for citizenship, with the day when each case will be heard, thus affording proper opportunity for examination. Excluding the State Courts from administering the Naturalization laws would require the appointment of Commissioners for the different counties, before whom each of the cases could be reviewed. Upon their report decrees could be entered, and certificates issued. But these Commissioners should be subjected to stringent rules, and act under special penalties.

11. But the tendency of popular sentiment is to a modification of the Naturalization Laws rather than to increased rigor. In some of the Northwestern States suffrage is allowed to aliens upon filing certificates of intention to become citizens. All the projects for amendments to the Constitution which have fallen under our observation have contemplated a shorter probation than that now exacted. The treaties recently negotiated by our Government with European powers, allowing individuals to renounce or resume citizenship at pleasure, point in the same direction. It is probable, consequently, that whatever changes may be made, will include a reduction of the term of residence required as a condition precedent to Naturalization.

12. This will make all the more expedient and necessary a practical Registry, with ample opportunity for identification, and an actual residence of some months in the particular precinct, as a condition of voting.

13. Property qualifications, whether expressed by the possession of lands and tenements or the payment of taxes, will disappear as supererogatory and cumbersome.

14. It can hardly be questioned but an amendment, of the general nature here indicated, will be submitted by the two Houses of Congress to the Legislatures of the respective States, and be approved by enough of them to incorporate it into the Constitution. Nor is there reason to apprehend that such an amendment will fail of giving satisfaction to the majority of the population. With the abrogation of slavery and the general tendency to political liberalism, changes have not only been rendered necessary, but the public mind has been rapidly prepared for them. The movement which pervades Europe runs its roots under the seas, and makes itself manifest in all parts of the United States. It is a movement that may, indeed, be impeded, but is destined to continue until it shall reach a full accomplishment.

THE "ALABAMA" DIPLOMACY.

We think our readers may rely upon it that the Alabama question is at last in the way of adjustment. It is stated, at Washington, that "important concessions have been made on both sides," our own Secretary having, by telegraph, "directed several successive re-modellings of the original agreement." The text of the treaty is expected to arrive by the next mail, when an anxious public will be able to discern to what extent these "re-modellings" have resisted the claim of England to recognize the belligerency of other powers at her own pleasure. Thereby hangs the important part of the tale for Secretary SEWARD.

—After the preceding paragraph was placed in type, came to hand the announcement that the terms made by our Minister at London, having been fully communicated to our own Government, were considered at a Cabinet meeting on Tuesday, and disapproved. This, if true, is not a happy illustration of Mr. SEWARD'S successive "re-modelling" the original agreement. But we hesitate to credit the late report as entirely correct. Doubtless, the terms made by our Minister are now under advisement at Washington. Very probably these terms are not satisfactory in all particulars to Mr. SEWARD, and no one has supposed that they would be. But we doubt if the President concurs with his Premier, as much as we doubt that the minister would have yielded up the Secretary's favorite point at London without some very cordial understanding, not to say express instructions, from his namesake at the White House. And we do not doubt that the result will convict the President of playing fast and loose with his Cabinet counsellors in this affair, as he has done more than once before.

Neither the President nor his Secretary will care to take the responsibility of rejecting this treaty, whatever its terms may be, without taking the advice of the Senate, which meets ten days hence. That body constitutionally co-operates with the Executive in the ratification of treaties, and in the practice of the government it has been repeatedly appealed to for its advice pending the conclusion of important negotiations. In the present affair, the public considerations involved are quite too grave to justify the Executive in terminating, or even suspending, the negotiation, much less in absolutely rejecting the attained results, without the proper reference to the Senate. And this disposition of the affair may very safely be anticipated. Regardless of any conflicting rumors for the next ten days, we feel much confidence that, whether its terms be approved by the President and Cabinet, the agreement will be duly referred to the Senate; that the Senate will ratify the treaty, perhaps, with trifling modifications, but substantially as it stands; that at least one high officer at the other end of the Avenue will plume himself upon his success as a diplomatist; that the Minister will not be recalled by this Administration, and that the two countries will very cheerfully accept an adjustment, bringing to one party solid compensation which the other will be able to pay, and which shall close the last remaining issue between our people and any foreign power.

A MATTER OF PUBLIC CONCERN.

The frequent occurrence, of late, of casualties on the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway, the "Pan-handle" line hence to Steubenville, elicits, naturally, much public commentary. We print, this morning, an account of another "accident" on this road, by which one man was instantly killed. We give no currency to rumors which float about freely, inasmuch as it is believed that the inquest, to be held by the Coroner on Saturday, will result in placing at least a portion of the facts in a clear light.

We are aware of the difficulties which the Railway Company experience in their efforts to serve the public, at the same time that they are perfecting their structure. But the public have a right to expect the adoption of adequate provisions for the safety of human life, and that those provisions shall be as faithfully respected by the Company's servants as rigidly enforced by the managers. If the recent disasters and loss of life upon their line are the result of circumstances beyond the Company's control, the fact should be known, in justice to them. But if these results are due to any short comings in the control of the road, or in the discipline of its employes, that should be speedily made clear, for the information and protection of the people, one of whom was the unfortunate victim of yesterday's "accident."

SHERIDAN ON THE WAR PATH.

SHERIDAN'S winter campaign against the Indians contemplates the simultaneous movement of eight columns of troops, from as many different points on the Northern, Eastern and Southern borders of the plains, all to converge upon a common centre upon the Republican Fork and Canadian rivers. A dispatch from Kansas says:

"The converging columns are now on the march. They cover a vast square of territory, whose sides are more than four hundred miles long. The eight columns of troops aggregate over three thousand cavalry, with sufficient amount of infantry to guard the base of supplies and the trains. Picked scouts, plainsmen accustomed to the Indians and their country, and guides accompany each command. The Indians, with the blood of Kansas settlers fresh on their hands, are falling Southward before the advancing army. The hostile warriors number between three and four thousand, and will hardly be able to resist the forces now being sent against them. A heavy snow storm set in this evening, and up to the present writing has fallen to the depth of about six inches."

One of the most delicate, and perhaps difficult, duties devolving upon SHERIDAN will be to restrain the auxiliary forces of volunteer and friendly Indians, from the slaughter of the enemy, after they shall have surrendered. These auxiliaries are inflamed by resentment for numberless outrages heretofore perpetrated by the savages on the border, and they make no concealment of their purpose to "wipe out" every red-skin, after the murderous fashion set by Colonel CHIVINGTON at Sand Creek. General SHERIDAN will spare no effort to prevent such an inexcusable atrocity.

REPRESENTATION OF MINORITIES.

The annual message of Governor HAYS, of Ohio, recommends that the Legislature provide by law for the representation of minorities in the township election-boards, the first, second and fourth highest upon the poll for trustees to be the officers chosen. The suggestion is favorably received by both parties, and is likely to be adopted in that State. Why not adopt the idea, or its equivalent, in Pennsylvania? Governor HAYS says:

That the boards of elections ought to be so constituted that minorities as well as majorities will have a fair representation in them, is so plainly just that in some parts of the State, even in times of the highest political excitement, such representation has been obtained, in the absence of law, by arrangement between the committees of the rival political parties. It is not probable that any mode of selecting judges and clerks of elections can be adopted which will, in every case, accomplish this object. But in all cases where the strength of the minority is half, or nearly half as great as that of the majority, the desired representation of the minority may be insured with sufficient certainty by several different plans. For example, it may be provided that the election of the three judges who are to decide all questions at the polls, each elector may be allowed to vote for two candidates only, and that the three candidates having the highest number of votes shall be declared elected, and in like manner that at the election of the two clerks of elections each elector may vote for one candidate only, and that the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. I do not lay much stress on the particular plan here suggested, but your attention is invited to the importance of a fair representation of the minority in all the boards of elections, not doubting that your wisdom will be able to devise a suitable measure to accomplish it.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Company furnishes the funds for the construction of a road to connect Carbondale with Lanesboro, on the Erie Railway, a distance of thirty-seven miles. They will also perfect their connection with the Albany and Susquehanna road (from Binghampton to the Hudson river), having in view, in each project, the enlargement of their facilities for reaching the markets of the interior of New York.

The revived prospects of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway attract attention. The management, under the Receivership of Gen. POTTER, is said to have been successful in restoring the line to a fair working condition, and so far regaining for it the public confidence as to justify a hope that its improved finances will warrant the resumption of interest-payments next Spring.

A FEW days ago a young couple, named Peter Shea and Miss Helen Griffiths Boyer, went to Galesbuag, Illinois, and were married, after which they took apartments at the American Hotel, where they intended remaining two nights. On retiring the second night Shea, instead of turning out the gas, blew it out. The couple, not appearing at a late hour in the morning, and not responding to calls, the door was forced open, and Shea and his wife were found senseless from arphyxia. Physicians were immediately called, and Mr. Shea was brought to consciousness about six o'clock in the evening, but Mrs. Shea continued insensible for forty-eight hours, when she expired. Mr. Shea's left side is completely paralyzed, and his recovery is pronounced impossible.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.
THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

BY JOHN W. GEARY, GOVERNOR.

Unto God, our Creator, we are indebted for life and all its blessings. It, therefore, becomes us at all times to render unto Him the homage of grateful hearts; and in the performance of our sacred duties, to set apart special periods to "enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise." For this purpose, and in accordance with an established custom, I have designated

Thursday, the 26th Day of November Next,

And I recommend that the people of this Commonwealth on that day refrain from their usual avocations and pursuits, and assemble at their chosen places of worship, to "praise the name of God and magnify Him with thanksgiving;" devoutly to acknowledge their dependence, and lay upon His altars the cheerful offerings of grateful hearts.

Let us thank him with Christian humility for health and prosperity, abundant harvests, the protection of commerce, and advancement of scientific, mechanical and manufacturing interests; our progress in education, morality, vtrtue and social order; the increase of our material wealth; exemption from pestilence and contagious diseases, and the destructive influences of war; for having blessed us as a people and a nation, and opened before as the brightest prospects for the future; and for all other blessings, both temporal and spiritual.

With sure reliance upon Divine favor let us pray for the forgiveness of our sins, making public confession of our dependence, that we may continue worthy of His parental love and protecting care; that our civil and religious liberties and political rights may remain unimpaired; that we may remember with gratitude our country's brave defenders, and cherish with sympathy their widows and orphan children; and that our paths through life may be directed by the example and instructions of the Redeemer, who died that we might enjoy all the bleesings which temporarily flow therefrom, and eternal life in the world to come.

Givin under my Hand and the Great Seal {L.S.} of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-third.

JOHN W. GEARY.

By the Governor:
F. JORDAN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Opinions of the Press.

[From the Upper Dauphin Register.]

It is everywhere admitted that Judge Schofield is the best qualified to represent Pennsylvania in the Senate of the United States, of any man whose name has been mentioned for that office. Why, then, should he not be elected?

[Evansburg Alleghenian.]

We trust the State will honor itself by electing Mr. Scott to represent it in the upper House of Congress. He will reflect a higher credit upon the Sate in that capacity than probably any other available man.

[From the Huntingdon Globe.]

The contest for United States Senator is becoming warm, and we are gratified to see the name of our townsman Hon. John Scott, brought prominently before the people in every part of the State for this position. Mr. Scott has made for himself a reputation that should win in the contest.

[From the Beaver Argus.]

The Harrisburg State Guard declares for the re-nomination of Governor John W. Geary, and in so doing, justly reflects the prevailing judgement of the Republican party in favor of a brave and faithful public servant.

NATURE'S GREAT ALLY.

It took the world nearly two thousand years to discover and remedy one of the most fatal errors that mankind has ever believed in. From the time of Galen, to a comparatively very recent date, it was supposed that, in order to cure a disease, it was necessary to weaken the already enfeebled patient by artificial means. Bleeding, blistering, violent purgation and salivation were the main reliance of the faculty, not more than fifty years ago. Restoratives were only administered as supplementary agents, after the lancet, cantharides, jalap and calomel had done their depleting work. Modern science has effected a salutary reform in medical treatment. In place of the nauseous doses once administered in cases of indigestion, billiousness, constipation, sick headache, nervousness, intermittent fever, &c., HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are now given with the utmost confidence and the happiest results. The reason why this admirable botanical preparation has superseded the debilitating poisons of the old materia medica are these: it combines the properties of a wholesome tonic, with those of a gentle cathartic, an anti-billious agent, a nervine, and a blood depurent. Thus, while it keeps the bowels free, regulates the liver, and purifies the current of life, it sustains the physical strength of the invalid, and by this means the expulsion of disease and the restoration of constitutional vigor go on together.

At this season when intermittent and remittent fevers, with other compaints arising from a damp, mephitic atmosphere, are prevalent, a course of the BITTERS is the best means of protecting the system from an attack.

LET ANY ONE TRY A FEW BOTTLES OF DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE AND IT WILL ESTABLISH ITS MERITS BEYOND CONTROVERSY.

We feel, in whatever we say in its behalf, that we are conferring a benefit upon thousands of people who would be benefitted by its use. Take any large audience or gathering of people, pay attention for a moment, and see if one out of every ten is not afflicted with a cough. There is no cough without some difficulty of the throat or lungs—trifling it may be at the outset, but gradually growing more and more fearful, until the constitution, at last, is made to succumb to its ravages; and what would have yielded in the beginning to a few doses of medicine has become a fearful lesion, involving life itself. No one can be too careful at this season of the year, to the first premonitors of pulmonary disease, and when a remedy like the one we have named, is within the means of all, the salutary advice which we have given should not be disregarded. Sold at the great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street,

Skeleton Incas and Their Wives.

There is a fine museum in Lima, and one can spend a day pleasantly among its relics and curiosittes. Peru was formerly celebrated for its mineral productions, and the assortment of these, the old coin and species of money, are really a great curiosity. Here too, are the portraits of all the viceroys and Incas, from the year 1780 up to the present President. And, huddled round the rooms, some in large glass cases, and some sitting on a small stand or table, are dozens of skeletons of the old Incas, who buried themselves alive at the coming of the Spaniards long years ago, as they were foolish enough to believe that after the Spaniards had gone away they would come from the ground as fresh as a toad from a hole where it had slept for twenty years. Nearly every one of them is in a sitting posture, his head between his hands, and the knees drawn up under the chin, and the expression of the skeleton face is one of horror, strangulation, smothering and despair altogether. There are women, too, the wives of the Incas, smothered alive in the same way, and dying in the same belief. Some of the skeleton women clutch skeleton babies, and it is a singular fact in connection with these mummies, that the long black hair of the women streams from the unsightly skulls in perfect preservation.

THE Cretan, a little paper published in Boston in the interest of the revolutionists of Crete, is anxious to have this country go to war with Turkey, "to vindicate the national honor and the national flag, thrice insulted and violated" by the Turks. The proposition is very fine. But another party desires us to send over our fleet to support the Spanish Republicans, and fight all Europe in their behalf. This proposition is also very fine. But another party desires us to assist the struggling patriots of Cuba, and send them men, money, ships and guns to achieve their independence. This, too, is very fine. But another party desires us to assist the Republicans of Ireland, and give a lesson to the English tyrant. This, of course, is very fine. There is no doubt we could whip all creation and the rest of mankind; but, after whipping them,—what?

(From the Delaware Gazette.)

TO PRINTERS.

We have been using for several weeks a very fine quality of ink from the Gray's Ferry Manufactory of CHARLES E. ROBINSON, which our Pressmen say is the best for cylinder press news work that they have used for a long time. It is a clear black, and free from all kind of sediment. Mr. Robinson is a practical ink manufacturer, liberal and courteous in all business transactions, and as he has recently had the misfortune to be burned out, we are the more free to recommend his ink and himself to the patronage of all printers who desire a good article at very cheap rates. Address No. 521 Minor street, Philadelphia.

One of our cotemporaries also recommends it as follows:

FINE PRINTING INK.

We have for some time been using the News Ink Manufactured at Gray's Ferry Printing Ink Works, Philadelphia, by C. E. ROBINSON, and, as stated some weeks ago, have found it better adapted to our presses than any ink we have had in our office for ten years. It is not only a very excellent article of ink, but it is furnished at very reasonable prices. The Works also manufacture Black and Colored Printing and Lithographic Ink, Varnishes, etc. Their address is Gray's Ferry Road and Thirty-third street, and No. 521 Minor street.—Hagerstown Herald.

We never recommend an article in these columns unless it really merits it, and to learn whether our own opinion of the ink the Tax Payer is now using coincided with our pressman's, we inquired his estimate. He replied, "Good, very good;" and as we never knew him to deviate from the truth, we inform our fellow printers that this was said of ROBINSON'S Philadelphia Printing Ink.—From the Tax Payer, New York. no26

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 25, 1868.

Gold advanced suddenly from 134⅝ to 135⅜ by the manipulations of the operators in railroad shares and government bonds. Foreign exchange has now advanced to such a figure that it will be just as well to ship gold as exchange, and sight exchange is scarce.

Government bonds had not advanced today at the early board, but towards noon a reaction set in, and all descriptions were slightly off, especially 1864s and 1865s. The The market can hardly be sustained at such a rapid advance. The transactions are enormous; should a reaction set in, the sales would be immense, since everybody who helped to create the rise would be just as anxious to get rid of his bonds.

The stock market is in the hands of a few bull operators who are trying to get out on some of their large purchases made before the recent decline.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 25, 1868.

There is nothing that is really new or important, to be said about the markets in a general way. As noted yesterday, Flour and some kinds of Grain are considerably firmer, bnt there is no excitement, and no material improvement to note in the demand. There is this difference, however, some days since, there seemed to be no buyers at scarcely at any price, while now there are parties who are willing to take hold, though, counselled by the past, they exercise more discretion, and are not willing to go it blind.

APPLES—There is a continued good demand, and the market is steady with regular sales at $2 to $4 per bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—Dull but unchanged; sales at 70 to 75 in kegs, and 80 to 85 in crocks.

BEANS—Under the influence of increased arrivals are a shade easier, and we now quote at $3,50 to $4 per uushel.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—The demand is rather better, and we can report regular sales at 4¼ to 5 cts.

CHEESE—Is dull but unchanged at 17 to 20c, as to quality.

CRANBERRIES—Supply in this market exceedingly small, and prime to choice eastern cultivated may be quoted at $24 to $25 per barrel.

CIDER—Unchanged; sales of prime Sweet at $8 to $9 per barrel.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand is improving slightly, thongh it is by no means urgent, and prices are unchanged. Peaches 12c for quarters, and 14c for halves. Apples, 9 to 10c

EGGS—Scarce, and fresh packed are quotod at 34 to 35c.

HAY—Baled continues very dull, but unchanged. We continue to quote at $18 to $25, as to quality and condition.

GRAIN—Wheat is firmer, although there is but little doing in this market, and but little here except what is in the hands of millers. We continue to quote Red Winter at $1,75 to $1,80. Oats quiet and unchanged. May be quoted at 60 in first hands; 62 to 63 on track and in elevator, and 64 to 66 in store. Rye is decidedly better, and there are buyers at $1,40, which is an advance. New Corn is rather firmer while old, if anything, is more neglected. We quote the former at 70 to 75, and the latter at $1 to $1,05. Barley also is firmer, and there is little or none offering. Prime Spring may be quoted, in the absence of sales, at $1,85 to $1,90 and Fall at $2.

POTATOES—Peach Blows continue dull and unchanged at 70 to 75 by the car load in bulk, and 80, sacked. Jersey Sweets $6 to $6,50 per bbl.

LARD—Is scarce and in steady demand, at 17 for prime kettle rendered.

LARD OIL—Is in demand, and limited supply; sales of No. 1 Winter strained at $1,50.

MESS PORK—Dull but unchanged at $27 per bbl, for new.

ONIONS—Very dull but unchanged; we continue to quote at $1,25 to $1,50 per bushel, as to quality.

TALLOW—Rendered 11½c.

HOMINY—Is quoted at $6,50 to $7 per barrel.

FEATHERS—Sales to the trade at 75 for Live Geese Feathers, and 80 to 85 for small lots in store.

FLOUR—Is in better demand and firmer, but prices are without quotable change. Western Flours are still quoted at $7 to $8 for Spring, and $9 to $9,50 for Winter. The Pearl Mill quote their brands, made of the best Wheat, as follows: Extra Family Flour, in barrels, at $9,50, and, in sacks, $9,20 per barrel; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,20, and, in sacks, $9,80 per barrel; Spring Wheat Flour, in barrels, $8,00, and, in sacks, $7,70 per barrel. The City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, (Winter) in barrels, $9,50, and, in sacks, $9,20 per barrel; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,00, and, in sacks, $9,70 per barrel, and Spring, $8,00, in barrels, and $7,70, in sacks, per barrel.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 25, 1868.

The oil market was somewhat offish today, the transactions, in the aggregate, being comparatively light, and at the close, prices ruled lower. There are various causes assigned for the very sudden reaction, none of which, up to this writing, are very definite, or of a very satisfactory character. Suffice to say, however, that for the present, at least, the excitement has subsided, and, as already intimated, prices are lower.

CRUDE.

The operators in Crude were very insignificant reaching less than ten thousand bbls against thirty-six thousand yesterday, and prices are lower. Spot oil, which sold yesterday at 12¼to 12¾, sold to-day at 12 cents, and even at the reduction the market was devoid of that life and activity which has prevailed for several days past. Sales 1,000 bbls (40 to 45 gravity) on spot at 12; 1,200 do do at 12; 4,400, January to June, seller's option, at 12¼; 1,000 seller's option, first six months 1869 at 12¼; and a "put" of 1,000 bbls (40 to 45 gravity) seller's option, January to July at 12, and two hundred dollars.

REFINED

As in the case of Crude, was also weak and lower to-day, and the transaction were also comparatively small. November sold at 32c, against 32½ to 32¾c yesterday, and December at 31 to 31½c, against 32c yesterday. There was but a single sale reported for next year, and it was a very small one, January and February at 30½c. January to June sold yesterday at 31½c to 32c—to-day there was not a single sale for that delivery. The reported sales were as follows:

500, November	32c
500, December	31c
1000, November	32c
1000, December	31½c
500, December, 1st to 15th	31c
1500, December	31½c
1500, December	31c
500, December	31½c
500 each January and February	31½c

—Since the above was put in type, we heard of the following sales: 500 bbls, November, at 31c; 500 do, December, at 31c, with more oil offering for December at same price, without finding buyers.

SECOND WIVES.

Analysis of the Aversion Obtaining to Second Marriages.

(From the London Leader.)

The sentiment of the age is—not without reason—opposed to second marriages. If matrimony were essentially the social partnership which some philosophers would fain make it—if it were simply a form of covenant binding the parties to love, honor and obey, till divorce do part them—if it were modeled on the plan of that reformer who wanted to add as a proviso to the Prayer-book Vow, "so long as we both shall love"—there would be no reasonable objection to entering into a second, third, fourth or fifth partnership on the same elastic footing. Such a dispensation, indeed, would realize the view of the late Adah Menken, that "it is well to marry young and often." But, unfortunately for the reformers and the philosophers, and all other nice theorists, male and female, philanthropic, free-loving and strong-minded, society persists in regarding marriages as much more solemn and spiritual contracts than this. Much as it may vex the clear-seeing intellect of a Bradlaugh, society insists upon importing the providential element into the business, and making Heaven the witness of a contract voluntarily entered into for eternity. Perhaps society is very wrong for all this—wrong in going to church at all—extremely wrong to subscribe to that palaver about forsaking all others, and cleaving only unto him or her, as the case may be. No doubt they order these things better in France, where the legal ceremony is the principal one, with church blessings thrown in ad valorem. If we could only get married quietly and without fuss, as they do in the opera, where an ardent basso drags an unwilling soprano to a side-table, and is on the point of consummating the business with the aid of un Notorio and a pad of blotting paper, the social economist would rejoice. Meanwhile, however, society goes on getting married at the Eagle and rivited at the communion table, and accepting a blessing from a posse of parsons, one assisting the other, with a choral force well up in and the organ played out the pair to Mendelssohn's wedding march, and all the ecclesiastical pageantry complete. It is hard, after all this, to attempt to dissociate the religious from the purely social nature of the proceeding. Let the bridegroom, if he be given to philosophical inquiry, try to dissociate them in his wife's presence. Let him begin by observing, "After all, my dear, we are not married in the sight of Heaven, and all that; it's only a facon de parler; we have simply entered into a sort of partnership, you know—like my association with old Jones in the office." Let him attempt this vein of moralizing, and from his wife's reply, he will be able to estimate the rooted feeling of society in the matter.

"The voice that breathed through Eden

This, then, is the spirit which dictates that sentimental aversion to second marriages, which is not the less general, in that it is seldom put into words. Matrimony being, from the sentimental point of view, a holy business, a bond which is not only to regulate this life, but in all likelihood to exercise an influence over the life to come, the incongruity, the indecency—nay, the very sacrilege—of admitting into the spiritual pact more than one partner, is sufficiently obvious. It savors of psychical polygamy. "I take Beatrice," says Benedick; "as the one participant of my weal or woe; I take her for time and eternity." But in a year or two Beatrice dies, and then Benedick chooses Laura as the one participant for time and eternity; and if he survives Laura there is nothing to prevent him adding a third and fourth to the firm. Now, at each betrothment, the sanctity of the business falls a peg. Nobody enters upon a second marriage with the same reverence, or earnestness, or ardor with which he contracted the first. He is older and colder, familiarity with the estate has bred indifference; the being at his side is not a trembling, pure little soul, whom all his strong, chivalrous nature rushes forth to protect, but a nice sort of person, who is going to look after his servants and see that his linen is kept in good order. Even with the first wife romance ended, by settling down into a Darby-and-Joan, jog-trot sort of existence; with the second one there is not even the romance to begin with. For few men—so few as to be out of count—make a love match twice in their lives. The first marriage is contracted in the ardor of youth; the second is mostly a calculation. Either the widower is weary of solitude, and has been habituated to the household order over which a mistress presides; or he sees the chance of a wealthy alliance; or he has property, but no heir, and must needs have one; or he wants somebody to look after his little comforts. There are a hundred mercenary pleas for a second marriage to one plea of affection. True love—we mean now true love in its flaming bachelor state, not the Darby-and-Joan jog-trot—seldom survives in a man after thirty. The truest, faithfulest, hottest, and most blissful, uncomfortable love of all is calf-love, which seldom lasts after seventeen. All subsequent passions are a mere imitation of this—not half so absorbing, not a third so blind, not a fourth so pure. The calf outlives his calfdom, and a few years later tries to produce it over again. But he never succeeds. The taurine passion is a mere stageplay. He may persuade himself that he is desperately in love with the dear girl, that she is an angel, that if she jilted him he would do something desperate—go mad, emigrate, blow out his brains, perhaps; but in his inner soul he knows that this is all a mere pretense; that his heart is not a raging furnace, but tepid as mildest shaving water; that his pulse would not hear her and beat had he lain for a century dead—indeed, it does not even quicken now when she enters the room. He sees her faults, none clearer; and he intends to correct them one day. There is nothing in his love like the wild adoring passion of the schoolboy; that comes but once in life, and the love which is bold enough to propose and callous enough to treat of settlements is a mere earthly imitation of it.

How much baser, then, a second marriage, which means a fiftieth love! If into the first there entered some element of caution, or more ignoble shrewdness, the second is wholly compounded of these, and of a selfishness which is parent of them. The motives which lead a batchelor to propose are mostly single hearted enough, he really loves the girl, and will do all he can to make her happy. But the widower enters the race with the intention that she shall make him happy. He is the first party to be considered, not she. And there are few single girls, and certainly no widows contemplating an alliance with a once married man who do not fully understand this. When a woman accepts a widower she must feel the second hand nature of the bargain. There is no freshness about it; all the bloom has been rubbed off; the vows are platitudes, the caresses have been rehearsed before. What a worn out pump the human heart is so far as lovemaking is concerned, after ten or fifteen years of married life! Is there anything more pathetic than forty wooing thirty-three, and countefeiting the languor of twenty? Or anything more cynical than the sight of a bright eyed maiden who imagines she holds in thrall that vieux moustache of a heart which has survived the wear and tear of a matrimonial campaign?

But as a rule she does not imagine anything of the kind; she accepts the situation at its true value, knowing that the widowed affections are so much Wardour street lumber; knowing that another woman has been before her and extracted all the pith and marrow of romance, leaving the husk to the second wife. She bargains, therefore, for a position, and not a passion, marries him for his money, or his title, or his status, or because she may not have another offer, or for any other motive that may be dominant—love being the last and least. Will she do a true wife's duty by him; will she be a second mother to his children; will she "order all things duly," like Lady Burleigh the First? Let the poor little neglected hearts that have sobbed themselves to sleep on their pillows make reply. As the second mamma is to the first, so is the second wife; it may be a cruel edition, sometimes a careless one, sometimes an indifferently honest one, always an inferior one. For you will find the rule hold good that there is but one true love in life and one married love; the first holds precedence, the after one weakens in arithmetical p rogression. When widows and widowers pair, the sight has always the savor of a huckster's bargain. On ne revient pas a ses premiers amours.

LADIES have, at different times within a few years, appropriated most of the articles of men's attire which found grace in their eyes—hats, overcoats, collars, shirt-bosoms, waistcoats—to which it is not necessary to add an allusion to their metaphorical aspirations to the breeches. A new annexation, however, is reported by a correspondent at Biarritz: Necessitated, perhaps, by the boot heels, some two inches high, which are in vogue, walking-sticks have become fashionable, and have even found their way into the hand of the Empress Eugenie. A form particularly popular is said to be a stout stick which is at once cane and parasol. It might, we think, by an extension of the fundamental principle, be made still more comprehensive; the cane being hollow, its head might be the bowl of a pipe, which, again, might be transformable into a lorgnette, thus enabling the ladies either to smoke with or quiz their gentlemen friends, quite after the manner of the latter.

THE GERMANS.—The Germans in the United States, according to the census of 1860, number 1,301,136, divided among the principal States as follows: New York, 256,252; Ohio, 168,210; Pennsylvania, 138,244; Illinois, 138,804; Wisconsin, 123,878; Missouri, 88,187; Indiana, 66,705. The Germans in the principal cities are distributed as follows: New York, 119,977; St. Louis, 50,510; Cincinnati, 43,931; Philadelphia, 43,630; Baltimore, 32,608; Chicago, 22,227; New Orleans, 19,729; Boston, 32,202. The Germans in the United States have probably increased one-third since 1860, and will therefore now number in this country 1,700,000 souls, of which Pennsylvania contains nearly two hundred thousand.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

☞LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed To THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

FOR SALE--REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE.

A FARM OF 30 ACRES, on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, 27 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa. The improvements are a fine two-story brick house, with ten large rooms and halls. A large frame bank barn, with No. 1 stabling, and all other outbuildings in complete order. One of the best of orchards, of all kinds of fruit. The soil is rich new bottom. This property adjoins the village of Buena Vista, and has the advantage of churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and will be sold at the low price of $15,000. The improvements alone are worth at least all that is asked for the property, to say nothing about the land, which is worth for garden purposes at least $10,000. For full particulars call at my office, or WILLIAM A. BELL, Esq., on the premises.

ALSO, A FARM OF 40 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, about 18 miles from the city. The improvements are a new stone dwelling, with eight rooms; a good barn and other outbuildings. This property is offered at a very low price. Call and secure yourself a good bargain.

ALSO, A FARM OF 120 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 17½ miles from the city, on the Connellsville Railroad, opposite Elrod's Station, within 20 minutes' walk of the Station. The improvements are a frame house containing four rooms and kitchen, with a good cellar underneath; very good barn and other outbuildings. A No. 1 orchard, containing about 200 fruit bearing trees, all in good condition. 90 acres cleared land, the residue in good timber, underlaid with 23 acres of coal.

ALSO, A TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSE adjoining the Borough of Elizabeth, Allegheny county, Pa., containing 4 rooms and kitchen. Lot 60 feet front by 136 back to an alley. A good stable, wash house, bake-oven and other outbuildings. I am authorized to sell it at the low price of $1,800, on good terms.

ALSO, In the Borough of Elizabeth, a good two-story BRICK HOUSE, containing 4 rooms. Lot 120 feet square. Will be sold at the exceedingly low price of $2,500, on easy terms.

ALSO, My Farm, known by the name of "Willow Banks," situated on the Connellsville Railroad, 17 miles from the city, containing 79 ACRES, all in good condition. The improvements are a No. 1 brick house, two stories high, newly painted, containing nine rooms, two halls running full length of the house. The house is situated on a beautiful knoll, is surrounded by fruit trees, shrubbery, vines and flowers, with a graded avenue running to the Yough. River. Also, a large frame bank barn, smoke house, wash house, coal house, bake-oven and other outbuildings, and a never-failing well of water. Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connexion with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. Very convenient to schools, churches, stores and blacksmith shop.

ALSO, A FARM OF 158 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 31 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the Connellsville Railroad, at Suter Station. The improvements are a commodious house, a good frame barn, with stabling for ten horses; a corn crib and wagon shed; good orchard of fruit trees; fencing very good. 120 acres cleared, the residue in heavy timber land. This farm is valuable—first, for its excellent soil; secondly, its timber; and thirdly, it contains more limestone than any other farm in Pennsylvania, all accessible. The lower vein of limestone is 40 feet thick; several other veins ranging from 3½ to 6 ft. in thickness, lie under the whole farm. For particulars enquire of ELI SUTER, Esq., at Suter Station, on at my office.

ALSO, 174 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; one hundred and twenty acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered, and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm.

ALSO, A beautifully situated tract of 60 ACRES of valuable land, under good fencing, situated in McCandless township, Allegheny county, Pa., on a township road, 7 measured miles from the Market House, Allegheny City. This tract is well adapted for a garden or dairy farm, being convenient and of easy access to either city, and near enough to the line of the Mahoning Railroad to make it very desirable for country seats, for persons doing business in the city.

ALSO, The best farm in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., 4 miles from Western Penna. R. R. at Livermore Station, containing 300 ACRES—225 acres cleared and under No. 1 fencing, as well as fine farming condition; the balance in good white oak timber. The improvements are 2 two-story frame houses, nearly new, of eight rooms each and finished basements and attics; a large bank barn 50 by 80 feet, a two-story spring house and other necessary outbuildings, all in good order; 5 acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruits; 4 feet vein of coal (now open,) underlying the whole tract, and limestone in abundance, with plenty of springs of never-failing water. Taken all together—houses, fencing, soil, nice lying surface, public highway, churches, schools, mills, &c.,—I know of no more inviting and desirable tract of land in Western Pennsylvania.

ALSO, FARM AND MILLS. A small tract of 60 ACRES of very valuable land in Derry township Westmoreland county, Pa., well fenced and in a high state of cultivation, with new frame dwelling, and other outbuildings; a new grist and saw mill complete, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the needed fixtures, in good order, and a young orchard of choice fruits; lane is all underlaid with a six foot vein of coal, now opened and worked, at the back of the mill, and limestone in abundance. Call soon and secure a good bargain.

ALSO, FARM OF 160 ACRES, situated immediately upon the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Blairsville Intersection, 54 miles east of the city. The improvements are a two-story stone house of 8 rooms, a No. 1 barn, 45 by 65 feet, the best of stabling and other outbuildings. The land lies well, is well fenced, is in good farming order, and will be sold very cheap if applied for soon.

Died of His Injuries.—We were informed last night that Marion Powell, the young man who was stabbed in Temperanceville on Tuesday, an account of which we published yesterday, died of his injuries yesterday morning.

Why Not!—A reader complains that he cannot find a place where he can purchase "a load of slabs for kindling wood and other purposes," and asks "if there are places where they can be procured, and persons who haul them, why do they not advertise?" Why not?

The Side Walks.—The Mayor informs us that hereafter he will enforce the ordinance relative to cleaning sidewalks, which requires them to be cleaned twice a week. This is a step well taken, and the citizens should comply with the law cheerfully, without being compelled to do so.

The laying of the blocks for the Nicolson pavement on Sixth (St. Clair) street, was completed yesterday. The remainder of the work will be completed in a few days. Travel over the street has been somewhat obstructed during the progress of the work, but it was unavoidable.

Slow Work.—The contractor for the construction of the Fourth avenue sewer is not pushing the work as rapidly as he might do, and unless a larger force of workmen is employed it will scarcely be completed during the present season. We observed but two men at work on it yesterday.

Aquatic.—Last night Walter Brown and Henry Coulter, oarsmen, met at the Monongahela House and put up a forfeit of fifty dollars to secure a race for the championship of American waters, to take place a few days hence on the Monongahela river. The contest will doubtless attract much attention.

Masonic Election.—At a regular meeting of Washington Lodge, No. 253, A. Y. M., held last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing Masonic year: W. M., Davis Glass; S. W., M. W. Canning; J. W., T. T. Ewens; Secretary, H. F. Egars; Treasurer, George Glass; Trustee of Masonic Charity Fund, George Glass.

Pardoned.—William Smith, convicted of highway robbery and sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of four years in the Western Penitentiary, and Charles Carson, sentenced for four years for felonious assault and battery, were yesterday pardoned out of the institution. They had each served out more than one year of their sentences.

The Monongahela Wharf improvement is progressing as rapidly as possible. The grading is nearly completed, and the wharf is now paved some distance above high water mark, so that there is no danger of damage from floods of an ordinary character, should the work not be finished this season. It is the intention of the contractor to complete it, however, as soon as possible.

St. Bridget's Fair.—It will be seen by notice elsewhere that the Fair at St. Bridget's Church, in the Eleventh ward, is now open. Those of our readers residing in the lower part of the city can reach the Church by taking the Wylie street cars to Green street. Everything has been done to render the Fair entertaining, pleasant and attractive, and we hope to see it liberally patronized.

Drowned.—A colored deck-hand employed on the United States snag-boat Monitor, lying at Haysville, was drowned on Saturday evening last. The man lost his balance while dipping a bucket of water, and fell overboard, with the result as stated. The body had not been recovered at last accounts.

—Since the above was in type, we learn that the body has been recovered, and Coroner Clawson went last evening to hold an inquest.

The Second Ward Scales.—The Second ward scales, which are now under the supervision of Mr. Ed. Magee, are doing a thriving business. In consequence of the grading of the wharf, they will be removed to a point further up the street, opposite Anderson's foundry. The foundation for the scales is already completed, and it is the intention to erect a neat brick weigh house for the accommodation of a weighmaster. The building will be completed and the scales removed about the first week in the coming month.

Fashionable Wedding.

Last evening St. Paul's Cathedral was the scene of one of the most brilliant and fashionable weddings ever held within its walls. A very worthy and wealthy young gentleman led to the altar one of the most gifted and accomplished belles of that church. The Cathedral was brilliant with light, and as the bridal procession entered the great organ pealed forth a merry march. Rt. Rev. M. Domenec, assisted by Rev. Fathers Devlin and Holland, and a number of attendants, officiated at the altar. There were three bridemaids and an equal number of bridemen, all plainly attired in traveling costumes. The attendance was very large, the streets about the Cathedral being completely closed with carriages in which the invited guests were conveyed to the church. The happy young couple and their bridal attendants left together on an early train for an extended tour in the East. They have our best wishes for their welfare and happiness.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Man Killed on the Pan Handle Railroad—Another Seriously Injured—Gross Negligence on the Part of a Conductor—He Takes His Departure.

We are called upon to chronicle another fatal accident on the Pan Handle Railroad, which, like many that have preceded it, resulted from criminal carelessness, or, to say the least, gross negligence on the part of one of the employes of the road.

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock the regular freight train west left this city and was followed, in a few minutes afterward, by an extra freight train, and at three o'clock the regular mail and passenger train west departed on the Pan Handle road. At Mansfield the first train stopped at the station for the purpose of taking in water, and, in obedience to the rule of the Company, a flagman was sent back to signal the extra freight train, which, on observing the signal, stopped about four hundred yards back of the first train. The engine was cut loose from the train and ran down to the water station, leaving the train standing on the main track, and no flagman was sent back or signal of any kind given to warn the engineer of the mail train, which was due at that point, of the obstruction. A short distance from where the extra freight train stopped, there is a short curve, and the mail train coming up at full speed, the engineer being unaware of the danger which awaited him, a collision was inevitable. As soon as the engineer on the mail train, John Woodall, saw the impending danger, he whistled "down brakes," reversed his engine, and, seeing that a collision was unavoidable, jumped from his engine, and striking his head against a switch-box, his neck was broken and he died almost instantly. The fireman, a Mr. Brown, who it appears remained on the engine, was severely injured, but it is thought his injuries will not prove fatal.

The remains of Woodall were brought to the Union Depot, in this city, and Alderman Donaldson, in the absence of the Coroner, empannelled a jury to hold an inquest. After viewing the body the inquest adjourned until Saturday.

The Conductor of the extra freight, whose inexcusable carelessness caused the accident, left his train immediately after the occurrence and has not since been heard of.

Most of the accidents which have occurred on this road are like this one, clearly attributable to the carelessness of some of the employes. The rules and regulations of the Conpany are as strict, and if properly adhered to, would be as safe and as well calculated to guard against accidents, as on any other road. The large amount of business done on this road, and the want of a double track, may, in some instances, have been the cause of accident, but the accident in question could in no way be attributed to such a cause, as is plainly evident from the single fact that the trains were all moving in one direction.

The matter, we learn, will be thoroughly investigated, and the guilty party, if apprehended, will receive his just deserts.

The deceased was a single man, about twenty-five years of age, and resided in Baltimore, to where his remains were taken for interment.

The engine and baggage car of the mail train were considerably damaged, as were also several of the freight cars of the extra freight train, but no person other than those mentioned were injured.

An Interesting Dispute.

The dispute between the city authorities of Allegheny and the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company is beginning to assume interesting characteristics. After a respite of several days, hostilities were resumed yesterday and, as if to make up for delay, are now being pushed quite energetically. The matter is in somewhat of a muddle, but as near as we could ascertain the facts are as follows:

The strip of land in dispute is about seven feet in width by three hundred feet in length, extending from Chestnut to Sycamore street on the northern side of the railroad track. The railroad company sometime ago being desirous of building a side track on the ground, commenced grading it off for that purpose, when they were stopped by the city authorities. They commenced again a few days since, and on complaint being made at the Mayor's office again, the Mayor directed his police to arrest the men engaged in doing the work. When brought to the Mayor's office the men appealed to Court and gave bail accordingly. Upon being released they proceeded back to the place and commenced work again. Again they were arrested and taken to the Mayor's, and again they were released on bail only to enact the same performance over. The Mayor allowed them to have a respite for one day, and in the meantime consulted the City Solicitor who instructed him to continue to arrest all persons found laboring on the ground without orders from the Street Commissioner of the city. Yesterday morning when the men came to work they were accordingly arrested, and went through the process of giving bail and returning to work, all the morning. In the afternoon the tactics were changed somewhat, by which the police were kept busy. One man was set at work, and as soon as arrested another man would take his place, and thus the policemen and arrested laborers were kept patroling between the disputed territory and the Mayor's office until evening came on, and the work was closed. Masons were at work during the afternoon, under the supervision of Street Commissioner Megraw, building up the wall which was torn down by the employés of the Railroad Company, and thus the matter rests at present, but the contest will undoubtedly be renewed again, as the men say they are instructed to go to work again as usual to-morrow morning. It is difficult to tell how long this state of affairs will continue, as both parties seemed determined to fight it out without either acting on the offensive. The claim on the part of the railroad is that the ground was originally owned by the old Canal Company, and that, of course, as they purchased the property of the Canal Company, this small strip belongs to them. This claim, however, it appears, is rather difficult to make out, and they, consequently, don't want to go to Court with a suit against the city authorities for trespass, as in that case they would be compelled to prove their ownership of the ground. Whereas, if they can provoke the city to sue them for trespass, then it will be the duty of the city to prove ownership. Whichever party fails in a suit to prove ownership, loses the property, which reverts to the other party, though it may not be to any greater extent the legal owner. This explains the unwillingness of either the Railroad Company or the city to enter suit first, which seems to be the proper method of settling the dispute.

On the part of the city, the claim is that, although the property did not originally belong to the municipality, yet as it has been abandoned for nearly thirty years by the original owners, during which time it has been used as a public highway, that in accordance with the law it becomes the property of the city. The city, in maintaining this claim, is backed by the owners of the property which abuts on that portion of the street, who assert their ability to prove the claim good. It is said that they are interested in having the city's claim sustained, as their properties extend over from three to seven feet more than their deeds call for, and if the railroad makes good its claim they will be compelled to move their fences and walls back to the line of the street.

As it stands now, the disputed ground seems to belong neither to the railroad company nor to the city, and the question of ownership is a nice one for the lawyers.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Kirkpatrick.

Court met at the usual hour yesterday morning.

In the case of Herron vs. Patterson, Neehouse & Pharo, reported yesterday, the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $266.44.

The case of Long vs. the First Evangelical Lutheran Church of East Birmingham, reported yesterday, was concluded with the exception of the verdict, and the jury were still out when Court adjourned.

Court adjourned until Friday morning.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

The Court of Common Pleas met yesterday at ten o'clock, Judge Stowe on the bench.

The case of James G. Weir vs. Joseph McAlpine, reported on trial yesterday, the jury found for plaintiff in the sum of $48,60.

The next case taken up was that of John Paisley vs. Levi Vogt Owen and David McPherson, contractors. This was an action on the Mechanic's lein. The jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $121,96.

The jury were then discharged, and jury trials suspended until the first Monday of December.

Lewis Hope, a resident of England, was arrested on a bench warrant issued at the instance of John Eberle, who claims that the defendant is indebted to him in the sum of $500. In 1865, it is alleged, Hope came to this vicinity and engaged quite extensively in the oil business. He established, we are told, one or two extensive refineries, but withdrew from his connection with them and turned his attention to the oil territory. Mr. Eberle alleged that Mr. Hope employed him as a kind of agent in the oil regions. He states that he went there and sunk wells, put up machinery, &c., Mr. Hope promising to refund to him all his money spent in this manner. At last, however, it is charged, Hope finding the speculations unpaying, departed for England, without paying up. It was ascertained a day or two since that he was in this vicinity, and the warrant was issued and the arrest made as stated. The case was investigated, and Mr. Hope, being placed upon the stand, testified that he had no individual dealings with Mr. Eberle, whereupon he was discharged.

Coal Frauds.

The fraud practiced by many of our extensive coal dealers was, it was thought, so thoroughly exposed a few months since by the prosecution of several of the dealers as to put an end to them, but we regret to say that such is not the case. The grossest frauds are still practiced by many of the large dealers, and we presume will continue to be perpetrated so long as they are permitted to weigh coal on their own scales instead of upon the city scales, as they should do. The most recent operation we have heard of was attempted to be perpetrated, and perhaps to a considerable extent was successful, upon Mr. Crossan, proprietor of the Monongahela House. Mr. C. had been purchasing his coal, of which he uses a large quantity, from one of the principal coal companies in this city, and thinking his coal bill unusually large, he turned his attention to the matter, and when the next load had been bought, before any of it had been unloaded, he asked to see the ticket, which was shown him. The ticket was for thirty-eight bushels of coal, which in his estimation was a much larger amount than there was in the wagon. To satisfy himself in regard to the matter, he had the coal taken to the Second ward scales and weighed, which proved he was correct, as there was but thirty-one bushels instead of thirty-eight, a deficiency of twenty-three and one-third per cent. This would increase the price of coal, which is now eleven cents, to over thirteen cents, which is too heavy a tax for the citizens to bear. We hope Councils will take the matter in hand, and give the citizens protection against such gross imposition.

Second Ward Pioneer Grant Club—Annual Election of Officers.

The Second ward, Pittsburgh, we believe has the credit of organizing the first Grant Club in the United States, being in the field for the great Captain so early as September, 1867. During the canvass it was among the most effective of working organizations and contributed no little towards increasing the majority in Allegheny county. At the annual meeting held last evening, the style of the Club was changed from Grant Pioneer to the Second Ward Union Republican Club, and the following gentlemen were unanimously elected to serve as officers during the ensuing year:

President—Thomas Steel, Esq.; Vice Presidents—Messrs. Thomas Ewing, R. B. Carnahan and Lewis Houch; Secretary—Thos. P. Houston; Treasurer—Thomas Ewing; Finance Committee—Messrs. William Phillips, T. W. Davis, M. W. Beltzhoover, Edward House and John Wilson. The Executive Committee, with Capt. W. B. Cook, as Chairman, will hereafter be announced. The Club has several hundred names of active working Republicans on its roll of members. It owns a magnificent brass six pound piece of artillery, has a full gun squad, and equipments for two hundred persons on parade occasions. We hope other Grant Clubs will follow the Second ward and maintain their organization so that they will be fully prepared for the work to be done in future campaigns.

Allegheny Fire Alarm.

At the last meeting of the Allegheny Councils a resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Fire Engines and Hose to select a Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph line, at a salary of $800. In accordance with their instructions the Committee, at a meeting held on Tuesday evening, unanimously selected Mr. L. D. McCandless to fill the position for one year, from the present time. Mr. McCandless has been in charge of the line for some time past but resigned his position a few weeks ago, on account of the small salary then paid, $300, which would not justify him in devoting his whole time and attention to keeping the line in proper order. The city was at considerable expense in erecting the line, but for some months past it has not given that perfect satisfaction which was expected of it. It requires the closest attention to render it effective, and now that the salary has been raised to a remunerative standard, the Superintendent will devote undivided attention to it, and it is expected that no more complaints will be made against it in future.

Another Challenge from Brown.

MR. FRANK QUEEN—Please find enclosed $250 to make good the following challenge: I hereby challenge Mr. G. H. Randforth, the conqueror of Harry Kelley, and now champion of England, to row me, Walter Brown, the acknowledged champion of America, a right-away English sculler race of four miles, seven hundred and forty-five yards, for the championship of the world and two thousand dollars a side; the race to take place at Newcastle, upon the river Tyne, England, and the party going from home to receive (£150) one hundred and fifty pounds for expenses; date of race to be fixed by Mr. Frank Queen, editor of the New York Clipper. WALTER BROWN.

In Darkness.—We have heard numerous complaints from residents on Cliff street relative to the darkness which has prevailed in that locality for a week past. It is stated that the gas main is out of order, and one entire square is without gas in consequence thereof. The gas company have been notified of the fact, but as yet have made no effort to repair the pipe and give the residents light.

Amusements.

THE TURF.—An exciting pacing race will take place at two o'clock P. M. to-day at West View Park, for a purse of $150, mile heats best three in five to harness. "Lady Jackson," "Bay Billy" and "Jimmy Dolan" are entered, and as they are all good goers fine sport is anticipated. "Ida May" and "Eagle" are matched for a run. Heats two-thirds of a mile, three in five.

OPERA HOUSE.—The attendance at the Opera House last night was reasonably large, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather. The entertainment was a most excellent one. The "Hidden Hand" was produced in a manner highly creditable to Mr. Chanfrau as well as to the entire company. At the matinee this afternoon the "Hidden Hand" will be repeated, and the entertainment will conclude with the "Persecuted Dutchman," with Mr. Chanfrau in both pieces. The bill for this evening is a most excellent one, and should fill the house to its utmost capacity. The "Idiot Witness," "Toodles," "The Widow's Victim" and "Golden Farmer" are all on the bills. Friday evening Mr. Chanfrau will appear as Ragged Pat in "Ireland as it is."

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—This popular place of amusement was filled with a respectable audience last night to see Miss Kate Fisher in her great speciality, "Mazeppa." She has been playing Mazeppa all week to crowded houses, and will repeat it at the Matinee this afternoon, and also on Friday evening, when she takes a benefit.

THE MUSEUM.—Among the other attractions and amusements in the city, Major Burnell's Museum should be remembered and patronized. Those wishing to spend a portion of Thanksgiving day profitably and pleasantly should by all means drop in at this place of entertainment and spend an hour or two in examining the collection of rare and interesting curiosities which the Major has procured for his establishment. The Museum will be open during the day and evening, and visitors will be admitted at any time.

VARIETIES.—An excellent bill has been prepared by the managers of Trimble's Varieties for this evening. The fun loving portion of the community can always find something to suit their tastes at this well managed establishment.

Allegheny Council Apportionments.

In our article on the new apportionment of members of the Allegheny Councils, one or two errors occurred. The Commission of Apportionments consists of the Mayor of the City and the Presidents of the two branches of Councils, and the second section of the act creating the commission, provides that: "Each ward shall have one representative in Common Council, for every five hundred and seventy-five taxables, to serve for one year, provided that each ward shall have at least two members of the Common Council, and provided further, that if the excess in any ward, shall be two-thirds of the said number, (five hundred and seventy-five,) it shall be entitled to one member for such excess." Under these provisions the table given by us yesterday, would stand corrected as follows:

WARDS.	Res. Taxables.	Members.
First	1,586	3
Second	2,058	3
Third	2,573	4
Fourth	2,237	4
Fifth	1,138	2
Sixth	1,179	2
Seventh	1,093	2
Eighth	633	2
Totals	12,497	22

These figures, as we stated yesterday, may be altered somewhat by the returns of the Assessors to the Commission of Apportionment. By reference to the table, it will be seen that an addition of eleven taxables to the Second ward list would entitle it to one more representative under the two-thirds rule. The whole matter, however, is at present somewhat of a speculation, and the facts in the case cannot be ascertained until after the meeting of the Commission.

The Allegheny Park.

The Allegheny Park improvements are progressing in a very satisfactory manner, under the supervision of the Park Commission and Mr. J. Finans, the gardener. A sub-committee of the Commission visited some of the Eastern cities a short time since, and spent nearly two weeks in selecting varieties of trees suitable for ornamentation and in obtaining some practical information in regard to the management of the Park by an examination of several of those already established. Yesterday a large number of the trees purchased arrived, and will be planted immediately, under the direction of the Committee on Trees, consisting of Mayor Drum, A. M. Marshall, Esq., and City Engineer Davis. They will be planted principally along Irwin and Ridge avenues, in place of those which have proved worthless in those localities. The varieties selected embrace Norway, ash leaf, and purple leaf maples, European sycamores, mossy cup oaks, and the beautiful magnolia. All of them are hardy, and will grow in almost any soil, and the selection was certainly, for the purpose, the best that could be made. Permission has been granted to Mr. J. Davis to ornament a plot of ground in front of his residence on Montgomery avenue. The permission was granted in accordance with the provisions of a resolution previously adopted by the Commission, granting to citizens the privilege of ornamenting small plots in the Park at their own expense—the plot thereafter to be designated by the name of the person thus ornamenting it. A number of citizens have availed themselves of this opportunity, and obligated themselves to ornament small plots in front of their residences.

Cross Suits.

On Tuesday afternoon a collision occurred between Louis King's brick wagon and a car on the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Railway, resulting in some damage to the wagon and slight injuries to King, who was thrown out of the vehicle. King, feeling that the accident was caused by the driver and conductor of the car, made information against them for disorderly conduct, before the Mayor, upon which warrants were issued yesterday. B. C. Adams, conductor, and W. H. Harley, driver of the car, made informations before Alderman Humbert, against King for misdemeanor and disorderly conduct. They allege that the accident was wholly the result of King's carelessness. Warrants were issued.

General Howard at Avery College.

The General, accompanied by Dr. Wood, President of the Western University, Rev. J. S. Travelli and J. M. Langston, Esq., visited Avery College on Monday morning and delivered a short and thrilling address to the students. Mr. Langston followed with a few appropriate remarks. Fifty boys and girls were present and gave the distinguished visitors a most enthusiastic welcome. In six months, under the Presidency of Rev. Mr. Garnet, the roll has increased from eighteen to seventy-two. In this number New York, District of Columbia, Maryland and our own State are represented. There are eight in the Freshman class.

It is a luxury and a comfort to bathe, shave, or have your hair cut or dressed at the elegant establishment of H. B. Williamson, No. 190 Federal street, Allegheny. Try it. F

MORTGAGES.

Same day fourteen mortgages were filed for record.

Thanksgiving Dinner.

Every family, we suppose, will observe this day by making some special provision for Thanksgiving dinner, and those who are surrounded with friends will doubtless enjoy the day to the fullest extentent. There will be many, however, who will be deprived of the pleasure of joining with their friends, but who will be desirous of finding some place where a good dinner may be obtained, and where at least most of the home comforts may be enjoyed. To all such we can commend Mr. Holtzheimer, of the Continental, Fifth avenue. He is always genial and courteous, his attendants prompt and attentive, and his tables supplied with the best the market affords. He has made extensive preparations for Thanksgiving Day, and those who want a first-class meal should give him a call. Among other things he has received ten barrels of extra large shell oysters, the finest which can be procured; ten dozen of quails; ten pairs of pheasants, and several saddles of the finest venison. Every delicacy in season and out of season will be served up in the best of style.

Progress.

Columbus sailed to the Amerian coast in a four hundred ton ship, and first landed upon the island of St. Domingo. Last week a vessel from St. Domingo unloaded in New York over four hundred tons of St. Croix Rum for P. H. Drake & Co., of that city. This is but a few weeks supply of this article, which these gentlemen use in the manufacture of the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS. We are informed by an exchange that Messrs. Drake & Co. have not advertised a dollar for a year, but that the sales of this article continue at the former enormous figure. In 1864 the receipts of the PLANTATION BITTERS were equal to those of the New York & New Haven Railroad.
